Benson Says He Will Remain in Cabinet

Secretary Says Eisenhower Has Requested He Continue Indefinitely

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson said today President Eisenhower has asked him to remain in the Cabinet indefinitely "and I have consented."

Benson told a news conference he discussed the subject Wednesday with the President at vacation White House headquarters at Newport, R. I.

He said he and Eisenhower also discussed plans to press for new farm laws under which the administration could reduce price supports and ease production controls.

The agriculture secretary, on leave since 1953 as an official of the Mormon Church, revealed that church leaders had asked if he could return to his religious work in Salt Lake City, Utah.

"The President has asked me to continue" (in the Cabinet), the church has given its approval, and I have consented," Benson said.

He added his Cabinet service will be "indefinite ... no set time."

Telegram By Proxmire

Benson, who has frequently been reported in hot water with Republican politicians, revealed his decision to stay in the Cabinet when newsmen asked him to comment on a telegram Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) sent to the President.

Proxmire called on Eisenhower to replace Benson immediately, saying his (Proxmire's) election last month was an "unmistakable repudiation" of Benson's policies.

The secretary's comment: "This isn't the first time a wire of that nature has gone to the President—or to me, either."

Benson had no other direct comment on the wire. But he told newsmen at Newport last Wednesday that he had reviewed the Wisconsin election with Eisenhower and told the President a Democratic campaign against his farm policies had no important effect on the results.

To Suggest Changes

Benson said he is "optimistic" about administration chances to win congressional approval of new farm legislation next year. He said he and Eisenhower "recognized it's a political year," but there is a "growing recognition" of the need for basic changes in farm law.

Benson said the administration probably will suggest:

—A repeal of price support formulas under which supports go up when surpluses are reduced.

—Some liberalization of farm production controls.

—An extension of a law under which surplus farm products may be exported in return for foreign currency.

Benson said many congressmen who opposed his policies this year, will find during the congressional recess that "there is a change in farm sentiment and there is more support for this type of legislation."

Wins Court Order To Keep Wife from Smashing Dishes

CHICAGO (AP) — Milford McWhirter won a court order restraining his wife from smashing the dishes.

McWhirter, 52, is contesting the divorce suit filed by his wife, Melita, 50.

McWhirter's attorney, Charles Cooley, told Judge Elmer N. Holmgren Thursday that Mrs. McWhirter has no grounds for divorce.

So she has been trying to provoke her husband into striking her, the lawyer contended.

She has heaved dishes at his feet, smashed three of his ash trays and dashed his favorite lamp to the floor, Cooley said.

She also ripped open a window screen, stuck her head through it and jeered, "I want you to hit me," the lawyer charged.

The judge issued an injunction.

Three Women Hurt in Accident Near Goreville

GOREVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Three women who were returning home from visiting a relative in a Marion hospital came back as patients after a freak accident north of Goreville.

State Patrolman James Turner of Stonefort said Mrs. Ivan Stewart of Goreville had pulled off Ill. 37 in a pickup truck during a heavy rain.

A semi-trailer truck driven by Oneal Wood, 34, Paducah, Ky., came over a hill leading into a curve from the opposite direction.

The semi-trailer struck the pickup truck which was parked 26 feet off the highway. Wood was fined $100 for traveling too fast for existing road conditions.

Two other occupants of the pickup, Mrs. Thomas Stewart, Buncombe, and Mrs. Lloyd Billingsley, Goreville, were brought to the hospital with Mrs. Ivan Stewart.

Faubus Leaves For Meeting With President

Brownell, Adams Also to Arrive Before Conference

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus took off from Little Rock today for a dramatic meeting here Saturday with President Eisenhower on the school integration impasse in Little Rock.

Faubus, who has defied a Federal Court order to admit Negroes to the Central High School in Little Rock, was accompanied by two consultants.

No information was released as to the route of the six-place Aero-Commander plane carrying the gubernatorial party or the estimated time of arrival at the summer White House.

But Faubus told reporters he understood he and his companions would spend the night "in the Newport area."

The conference is scheduled for 8 a. m. c. d. t.

Faubus said he would have no legal advisers with him at the talks with Eisenhower.

"The only time I need legal advice is in court, not in a conference," the governor said.

Faubus was accompanied by Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.) and Arnold Sikes, the governor's executive secretary.

Hays, an old friend of Eisenhower, was the chief go-between in setting up the meeting between the President and the governor.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty and Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. and Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams will arrive here about 7:30 a. m. c. d. t., half an hour before the President's meeting with Faubus.

That will give them time for a private session with Eisenhower before he meets the governor. The attorney general and Adams were not expected to sit in on the entire Eisenhower-Faubus meeting because the President and the governor may want to have a few words alone.

Must Come Down

$600,000 Church Being Built in Path of Proposed Superhighway

CHICAGO (AP) — A $600,000 church going up on Chicago's South Side is going to have to come down. It's smack dab in the path of a proposed superhighway.

The huge new progressive Baptist Church has been under construction since April, 1955, and more than $400,000 worth of the structure has been completed.

Chicago Public Works officials said they previously warned church officials they were building in the middle of the future south expressway, but they went right ahead with construction.

Then the city tried to figure out a possible alternate route to bypass the church, but without avail.

The upshot, according to Public Works Commissioner George L. Dement is that condemnation proceedings against the church will begin within two weeks.

The Rev. T. E. Brown, pastor of the church, said ground for the church was broken more than two years ago, and five months later the City Council issued a free building permit for the structure.

In September, 1956, the Rev. Mr. Brown said, he was advised by the Public Works Department to halt construction.

Dement explained the delay by saying he couldn't seek condemnation proceedings because the route of the expressway was not approved by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads until then. The federal government is paying 90 per cent of the road's cost.

The city commissioner said last April he again told the pastor to halt work and offered to pay the church $250,000 for construction already completed.

Construction continued and Dement said he withheld condemnation proceedings while the department made another engineering survey in an effort to save the church.

Dement said he was not sorry he held up condemnation proceedings this long, but he felt the Rev. Mr. Brown was somewhat unreasonable in continuing construction while the city tried to save the church.

"We tried every way to miss the church," Dement said, "but we can't. It will cost us more money, but we tried to be fair."

Israel Jittery

Syrian, Egyptian Leaders Bind Armies Under Joint Command

By United Press

A tighter welding of the Syrian and Egyptian armies gave Israel a new case of the jitters today.

Two days of talks between Syrian and Egyptian military leaders in Cairo resulted Thursday night in binding their two armies even closer under a joint command controlled by Egypt.

The leftist commander of the Syrian army, Gen. Afif Bizri, said before returning to Damascus that his army and that of Egypt were "one army, with one command and one strategy."

Israeli sources in Jerusalem said there was no doubt in their minds what that strategy is—to wipe Israel off the map.

But authoritative Western sources said the pro-Western Arab nations of Lebanon and Jordan — both neighbors of Syria — were considerably concerned that Egypt's military support of Syria might be aimed at them too.

Reports from Beirut said 12 persons were killed on the Syrian-Lebanese border Thursday in a clash between armed Syrian civilians and Lebanese gendarmes.

King Hussein arrived home from his vacation in Spain late Thursday to confer with government officials in Amman who have shown mounting concern over the Communist threat from Syria.

Even before his arrival officials had tightened security measures both internally and along the borders with Syria and Israel.

In Washington, U. S. officials said today the United States is not willing now to give Israel new iron-clad guarantees against Arab aggression.

They said all Middle Eastern nations and Russia already understand what action the United States would take under the Eisenhower Doctrine and previous U. S. policy statements.

Sullivan to Be Arraigned Today

Howard Sullivan, 34, was scheduled to be arraigned this afternoon before U. S. Commissioner Harry L. McCabe. Charges of forging and altering postoffice money orders were filed yesterday against Sullivan by a U. S. postal inspector, who obtained his written confession.

Sullivan is charged with raising two money orders from fifty cents to $44.50 each. He is held in the Saline county jail pending his arraignment. The postal inspector said he would be taken to East St. Louis by a U. S. marshal.

466 Owners, Operators In '57 Program

$152,194 Paid to Corn Growers, $14,409 for Wheat

A total of $166,604.00 has been paid to Saline county farmers thru the 1957 Soil Bank program, it has been announced by B. R. Gholson, manager of the Saline county office of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation program.

There were 466 farm owners and operators participating in the Soil Bank program during 1957, with 424 participating in the corn program and the remainder in wheat.

Mailing the checks, which was started in the latter part of August, has been completed and work has now started on signing up farmers for the 1958 program, with the deadline for participating in the wheat program Oct. 4, it has been announced. Signing up corn growers will not begin until early in January.

There were 343 contracts for the corn program, but in many cases there were owners and operators involved in one contract with a total of 424 checks written. Total amount of checks for the corn program was $152,194.80, with the largest check totalling $2,074.80. Total corn acreage in the Soil Bank was 3,071.9.

State Determines Acreage

There were 721.8 acres reserved in the wheat program, with 42 contracts and 46 farmer owners and operators participating. Wheat checks totalled $14,409.20, with the largest individual check being $1,599.00.

Acreage allowed in the Soil Bank in Saline county was determined by state authorities, with the program starting in Washington, where the total acreage for the nation being determined. These state acreages were announced, then states determined acreages for the various counties.

County offices determined the maximum acreage individual farmers could place in the Soil Bank, with all figures based on the farming history of the past four years.

When a farmer placed acreage in the Soil Bank he agreed to let the land remain completely idle for the year, being used neither for pasture or the raising of crops of any type. There also had to be an effective weed control program. The program served a twofold purpose—to improve the land and also to reduce surpluses in corn and wheat.

And now that the 1957 program has been completed, there is $166,604.00 additional in the economic stream of Saline county.

Ex-POW Loses Court Battle

FT. LEONARD WOOD, Mo. (AP) — A former prisoner of war in Korea has lost a three-year battle to have his conviction of collaborating with the enemy thrown out.

Lt. Col. Harry Fleming, 49, Racine, Wis., was found guilty of the charges by a general court-martial at Ft. Sheridan, Ill. The charges stemmed from Fleming's activities while a POW in North Korea in 1951.

Military authorities disclosed Thursday that Undersecretary of the Army Hugh M. Milton had ordered them to execute the sentence of dismissal from the service and forfeiture of all pay and allowances.

Following his conviction, Fleming had appealed through the channels provided by the uniform code of military justice. The conviction and sentence were upheld by the court of military appeal, the highest military tribunal.

Pending the final decision, Fleming had been performing non-command duties here.

Pilot Bails Out, 3 Crewmen Dead In B47 Crash

BASTROP, La. (AP) — Three Air Force officers were killed in the crash of a B47 Stratojet bomber near here Thursday, but the pilot bailed out and survived.

The pilot, Col. Joe C. Briley, 41, hospitalized with a broken arm, said he did not know why the other crewmen failed to get out of the plane, which went out of control at 36,000 feet and crashed in the woods three miles south of here.

The dead were identified by the Air Force as Capt. Doy Baxter, 33, Fort Worth, Tex., the co-pilot; Capt. Ralph O. Harvey, 33, Greenhurst, N. Y., also a pilot; and Capt. Robert P. Bergman, 33, St. Paul, Minn., radar observer and navigator.

Briley, who commands the 3245th Test Group at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., said the plane was on a test mission from Eglin to Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. The pilot said he climbed to 36,000 feet to avoid bad weather, then lost control and the plane went into a dive.

Not So Dark Horse

Quite a few knowing politicians in Washington believe Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Senate majority leader, intends to make a serious bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

In lawmaking circles, Johnson's stock is very high right now. Veterans of both parties have nothing but praise for his management of affairs in the 1957 session of Congress. He is viewed as a master legislative technician, shrewd in maneuver, superb at piloting a proposal to passage.

But members of Congress do not nominate candidates for president.
The important questions are whether Johnson really does want the nod, and what effective strength he might muster toward getting it.

Effective strength means delegate votes in the national convention. That is the only testing ground that matters.

No one, of course, can be sure exactly what is in Johnson's mind.
But his behavior in Congress, particularly his increasing efforts to advance imaginative policy proposals, strongly suggests to his colleagues and to most observers that he wants the 1960 nomination.

Though it is early to say, the chances are good that he could put together a big block of southern delegates, possibly 300 or more.
If he did that, unquestionably he would be a figure to be reckoned with at convention time.

But he understands better than many that it is a long way from that point to the nomination. The experts consider it axiomatic in the Democratic party that a winning candidate must be acceptable to both the North and the South and must be able to draw delegate strength from both areas.

Whether Johnson could achieve that objective is the issue. His popularity in the Senate might be of some help in certain western states represented now by Democratic senators. Often, however, experience shows that it is the governors, not the senators, who call the turn at conventions. And some of the biggest and most powerful states have no Democratic senators.

Broadly speaking, there are no clear signs at this time that Johnson would be acceptable to the North. Civil rights and other issues make it extremely difficult for him to gain a wide base in that sector.

If, under all the expected handicaps, Johnson were to achieve countrywide support in his party in the next three years, he would have to be hailed as master politician, as he is now called master lawmaker.

"---'N' He Said His Father Can Lick You"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

(Editor's Note: Drew Pearson is now on a trip through southern Europe and the Near East to report on American attempts to meet the Communist menace.)

DREW PEARSON Says:
America's First Line Of Defense Has Been Moved From The Rhine To The Bosphorus;
Greek Military Is Efficient Adjunct To U. S. Armed Forces;
U. S. Farm Products Pay For Aid To Greece.

ATHENS, Greece. — Just 18 years ago, shortly after Hitler invaded Poland, Franklin Roosevelt called a meeting of Senate leaders to discuss the emergency facing the United States. During that conference he remarked:

"America's first line of defense is on the Rhine."

The meeting was supposed to be strictly confidential. But shortly thereafter, word of what FDR had said leaked out and the late Sen. Bennett Clark of Missouri denounced him for claiming that the nation's first line of defense was beyond the New York, New Jersey and New England coast.
Other senators joined Clark in the attack.

Since then the world war which Roosevelt foresaw spread to Hawaii and to submarine sinkings within eyeshot of the Florida and Carolina coasts; while the first line of America's defense has been extended to air bases far beyond the Rhine.

As part of this extension, Harry Truman, exactly 10 years ago, placed one American line of defense in Greece and Turkey. Probably it was the most revolutionary, radical extension of American defense since Roosevelt's 1939 statement about the Rhine.

So today, 10 years after establishment of the Truman Doctrine, what many people would like to know is whether this Greek-Turkish line of defense is in fact a real line of defense; whether our dollars have been wisely invested, and whether the Communist menace is winning or losing in a part of the world which guards this only warm waterway to Russia — the Bosphorus.

With the Soviet now jumping across this waterway to Syria and Egypt, the big question is: Will our Greek and Turkish allies get boxed in? With Sovi submarine bases in Albania, Syria and Egypt, will they become isolated, discouraged, and start leaning toward Russia?

This is one of the most important questions facing the United States and, to get the answer, I came first to Athens.

EFFICIENT GREEK AIR FORCE

Part of the answer lies in the Greek army, air force and navy.
Part lies in the determination of the Greek people. To get the military answer I went out to Eleusis airfield to talk to various officers, including Gen. John Politakos, chief of the Greek joint staff group.
I also talked with American military men in Greece, flew in Greek air force planes and watched the most dramatic jet-fighter exhibitions I have ever seen. For skillful, precision-timed flying it surpassed an American show I once saw staged for General Eisenhower at Munich, Germany.

There is no question but that the Greek military are in tip-top shape and that morale is high. In time of war they could supply 11 army divisions, plus one armored division, plus 12 air wings, plus a small, but highly skilled navy.
The Greek navy, however, has only four submarines, two of them old British subs. They are outdated by the Syrians and Egyptians with up-to-date Soviet subs.

The Greek military, which amounts to another arm of the U. S. armed forces stationed right alongside the Iron Curtain, is costly. U. S. A. peanuts. A Greek soldier is paid one drachma — three cents — per day. A Greek colonel is paid $120 a month, about the same as the pay of an American private first class with dependent's allowance.

Furthermore this is all financed by American farm products. Aside from the military equipment sent from the United States, much of which is old, all the military and economic aid for Greece this year came from selling Secretary Benson's huge oversupply of farm products.

Probably few American farmers realize it, but Benson would have had his bins bulging even more if it weren't for the aid program to Greece and other countries.

Here is how the aid program works out in terms of farm products:

1. A total of $15,000,000 in farm products is sold in Greece for local Greek currency. This money goes to the Greek military and is an outright gift.

2. Another $13,000,000 in farm products is given to the Greek people through Care, Church World Services and Catholic welfare.
This also is a gift.

3. Another $40,000,000 in farm products goes to the Greek government on a loan basis, to be repaid in 40 years at 4 per cent interest.

This makes a total of $68,000,000, all in farm products, of which $40,000,000 is a loan. Of this total, however, $10,000,000 in Greek currency goes to the use of the United States for paying the expenses of the American embassy and of American personnel in Greece.

The above is a big reduction from the $28,000,000 which the United States gave to Greece during the peak year 1949 when Greece was fighting a desperate battle against Communist guerrillas.

However Greece, despite remarkable progress, faces other problems, including the clumsiness of our own State Department which will be diagnosed in future columns.

Miss Charlene Elizabeth Parks, Jerry Knight Johnson Exchange Wedding Vows

Mrs. Jerry Knight Johnson (Ronnie's Studio Photo)

Miss Charlene Elizabeth Parks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parks, 203 East Raymond street, and Jerry Knight Johnson, son of Dr. and Mrs. G. R. Johnson, 211 North Webster street, were married in the First Baptist church of Harrisburg at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, of Sept. 1. The Rev. W. L. Cummins performed the double-ring ceremony before the church altar, covered in bridal white and decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums and palms, backed by tall candelabras bearing lighted tapers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a wedding gown of white peau de soie fashioned on princess lines with a sweep train. The neckline was semi-square with a front inset of pearl embroidered Alencon lace. The short sleeves were shirred. On her head she wore a silhouette crown of lace, seed pearls and sequins, securing a finger tip length veil of illusion. Her cascade bouquet was of white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Bill Hart, sister of the bride, served as her matron of honor and wore an off-shoulder chiffon of two shades of green. Her headdress was of white daisies and she carried a bouquet of white daisies.

Miss Shirley Beichel, St. Louis, Mo., and Miss Marcia Eschenbrenner, Webster Groves, Mo., were her bridesmaids and wore chiffon dresses of two shades of green, complemented with daisy headdresses and each carried a bouquet of white daisies.

Bill Hart acted as best man for the bridegroom. W. T. Westbrook, Harrisburg, and Lee Snider, St. Louis, Mo., were the groomsmen and the ushers were Tom Wright and Myron Taylor, St. Louis, Mo., Tom Adams, Kirkwood, Mo., Herb Parks, brother of the bride, and Danny Brown, Jackson, Tenn. The men in the wedding party wore white summer tuxedos, dark trousers and white boutonnieres.

Miss Judy O'Neal, wearing a pink formal dress, and Miss Linda Rude, wearing a blue and white formal dress, were candelighters. Each wore a wrist corsage of white daisies.

The bride's mother wore a gold silk dress with black accessories

The men left Monday to take up their residence in the fraternity house at Urbana where they will attend the University of Illinois. The guests were Ralph Myers, Park Forest; Paul Edgell, Arthur; Jim Gustasson and Larry Ray, Libertyville.

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Craver, Homer, were guests of the Bruce Polks Monday night.

Rev. and Mrs. Roy Reynolds, who reside at Bankston, have returned from an enjoyable pleasure trip made with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Younger, and his son, Douglas, of Pontiac, Mich. They were in Balsam Lake, Wis., to visit another nephew, William Jennings and family and went through Wisconsin, Minnesota and the Dakotas en route to Salt Lake City, and Yellowstone National Park, returning via Denver, Colo.

There was a reception immediately following the wedding, in the home of the bridegroom's parents. The home was decorated with flower arrangements of white chrysanthemums, and wedding bells, ropes of smilax, white stock, pink and rose chrysanthemums and Fuji chrysanthemums. There were zinnias in fall colors, marigolds and daisies in other rooms of the house, and the fireplace was banked with greenery.

Rev. R. J. Morman presented the bride couple with a Bible, just before the wedding.

Walker Cuppers In Semifinals of U. S. Amateur

BROOKLINE, Mass. (U.P.)—Four Walker Cuppers met in the semifinals of the U. S. Amateur golf championship today with Dr. Frank Taylor facing Mason Rudolph and Hillman Robbins playing Rex Baxter.

Survivors of a starting field of 200 in this six-day match play grind, the four members of America's victorious Walker Cup team gained the 36-hole round by winning four of the closest quarter-final matches ever seen in this 57th annual tournament.

Taylor, a 40-year-old dentist from Pomona, Calif., who took care of President Eisenhower's teeth while stationed in the European Theater as an Army colonel, beat out his golfing buddy, Gene Andrews, a 44-year-old Los Angeles insurance salesman, 2 up. He had made the quarter-finals by winning his morning fifth-round match against Jim Tom Blair, son of the governor of Missouri, by the same margin.

Rudolph, a 23-year-old Army private from Clarksville, Tenn., shot two under par to eliminate Dick Yost, a 27-year-old school equipment salesman from Portland, Ore., 1 up in 19 holes, after having eliminated Larry Cook, the cross-handed playing deputy sheriff from Wrightsville Beach, N. C., 4 and 3 in the morning.

Robbins, a 25-year-old Air Force lieutenant from Memphis, Tenn., knocked out 46-year-old Dick Chapman, who had won this tournament 17 years ago, 3 and 1. He had gained the quarter-finals by turning back Tom Holland, 28-year-old executive from Rockville Centre, N. Y., 1 up in the fifth round.

Baxter, the 21-year-old NCAA champion from the University of Houston, nosed out his college roommate, Phil Rodgers, only 19, 1 up in 21 holes. He had gained the round of eight with a 5-3 morning round win over Alex Sott, the 33-year-old factory inspector from Bridgeport, Conn.

Two Miners Killed At Old Ben No. 9

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill. (U.P.)—Two West Frankfort miners were killed in a rock and coal fall at the Old Ben No. 9 mine here Thursday.

A mine spokesman identified the victims as John Simko, 48, a foreman, and Paul E. Jones, 49, a helper on a continuous mining machine.

Both men suffered broken necks. They were struck by the fall while driving entries for a new coal development. They were brought to the top within 15 minutes after the fall.

Despite the forbidding appearance of its size (as much as 3,000 pounds and 10- to 11-foot length), fearful looking tusks and bristling whiskers, the walrus is really harmless and will never attack a man unless enraged. The tusks are used not only for defense, but also to dig up the shallow sea bottom for food. By means of its tusks, the walrus hoists itself onto floating sheets of ice.

U. of Illinois Surveys Shopping Habits at Vienna

URBANA-CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (U.P.)—The University of Illinois is using a new approach in a shopping habit survey at Vienna, Ill., Prof. M. G. Parsons of the Bureau of Business Management announced today.

Every family living in Johnson county will be contacted. Normally the survey touches only those families living in a 10 or 12 mile radius of the shopping center.

Questionnaires will be mailed to each of the 2,400 families in mid-October. Prof. Parsons hopes that the survey will be completed by Christmas.

The Vienna Chamber of Commerce requested that the University of Illinois make the survey following an address by Prof. A. T. Anderson of the University's department of agricultural economics. The survey is in close cooperation with Charles Ream, farm adviser of Johnson county.

Herrin, in adjoining Williamson county, has also requested that a similar survey be made.

Six Sworn In As Delegates To UN Assembly

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—AFL-CIO President George Meany, movie actress Irene Dunne and four other members of the U. S. delegations to the U. N. General Assembly were sworn in Thursday.

Miss Dunne, an alternate representative, told Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at the overflow ceremony "this is really a great day in my life."

Administration officials said the actress, wife of Dr. Francis D. Griffin, was chosen because she is regarded as an outstanding American woman with a great interest in international affairs.

Besides Meany, those sworn in as representatives were Herman B. Wells, president of Indiana University, and Reps. Walter M. Judd (R-Minn.) and A. S. J. Canahan (D-Mo.).

Alternate representatives sworn in, in addition to Miss Dunne, were: Philip M. Klutznick, Park Forest, Ill., and Genoa S. Washington, president of the Chicago branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Mrs. Oswald B. Lord, New York, another alternate delegate, did not attend the ceremony.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief of the U. S. delegation, and James J. Wadsworth, his deputy, were unable to attend the ceremony because of the special session on Hungary now underway in New York.

Dulles told the group that the assembly meeting which opens Tuesday will be "one of the most important that has taken place."

Pilot Spots Boy To End Search

CARBONDALE, Ill. (U.P.)—An alert pilot spotted a 3-year-old boy unharmed at dusk Thursday, ending a frantic search in the rugged hill country south of here.

The boy, Jeffery Huppert, was found rain-soaked, scratched and his mouth blackened by wild berries he had foraged while lost in the woods.

His two dogs, who had accompanied him when he wandered away from home Thursday morning, remained at his side.

Elliott Ketting, chief pilot for the Midwestern Aero Service near Carbondale, spotted the boy "as I was about to give up the search." He flew low and dipped the plane's wings, leading searchers to the boy who was in a field.

Some 75 authorities and volunteers had searched almost four hours for the boy and bloodhounds had been ordered from Menard Prison.

Sailor Adventist Sentenced for Refusing Duties

PEARL HARBOR, T. H. (U.P.)—Seventh Day Adventist Lee Surls, Azusa, Calif., was sentenced to three months at hard labor by a Navy court-martial Thursday for refusing to perform assigned duties on Saturday—the Adventists' Sabbath.

The sentence, which included a fine of $50 monthly for three months, was half the maximum for the offense. The case may now be reviewed by Rear Adm. Edward Solomons, commander of services forces in the Pacific.

Surls, 20, attached to the Navy tanker U. S. S. Newmarket and a recent convert to Seventh Day Adventism. He said the sentence "really shook" him.

He told the United Press he had been permitted to trade his Saturday duty with shipmates until late in July, when his commanding officer, Lt. C. J. Rozell, Orange, Calif., ordered him to stand his own Saturday watches.

Rozell ordered Surls' court-martial when he refused to perform assigned duties on three successive Saturdays.

Teachers Vote Strike Approval At East St. Louis

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (U.P.)—More than 300 school teachers threatened today to strike on 24 hours notice in a dispute with the Board of Education over salary schedules.

Members of Local 1220 of the East St. Louis Federation of Teachers voted unanimously to strike if salary talks break down.

Union President Paul Woods said Thursday the major complaint was the 21-year wait before the teachers can reach the top wage brackets. Teachers with bachelor degrees, depending on length of service, now earn between $3,800 to $5,800 a year. Teachers holding master's degrees, earn between $4,000 and $6,000.

In current negotiations, they are asking a hike from the present $100 a year annual increment to $200.

Dr. Arthur M. Jackson, president of the Board of Education, said an injunction will be sought if the teachers strike.

Gov't to Borrow Three Billion For Cash Needs

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The Treasury announced today it will try an unusual method to borrow about three billion dollars to meet the government's cash needs for the next two months.

It will offer for sale Monday at 4 per cent interest about 500 million dollars in 12-year bonds, about $1,750,000,000 in five-year notes and some 750 million dollars in certificates of indebtedness.

A spokesman said the borrowing, if successful, would enable the Treasury to stay within the 275-billion-dollar legal debt limit for the remainder of the calendar year.

He conceded it was unusual to issue both long and short term securities at the same interest rate. But he said "that's the way the market is behaving."

Treasury officials indicated the new security issue would bring to about $7,750,000,000 the total borrowed so far this year. An additional two billion dollars in public holdings will have to be refinanced in December.

For the entire first half of fiscal 1957 total borrowings were $7,500,000,000.

As of Oct. 1, the Treasury official said, the debt is expected to be about half a billion dollars short of the limit.

The national debt customarily is higher in the latter months of any calendar year because of a seasonal dip in government revenue. In the spring when tax money comes in, some present short term debt will be liquidated.

India Oposes UN Condemnation of Russia, Hungary

UNITED NATIONS (U.P.)—India declared itself today flatly against any condemnation of Russia and the Hungarian regime for the brutal suppression of last year's freedom revolt in Hungary.

Despite the position taken by India, a recognized leader of the Asian "neutralist" group, efforts to weaken a 37-power resolution condemning the Soviet action appeared certainly doomed.

The United States, with the unanimous support of the other 36 sponsors, rejected a resolution submitted by Burma to replace the word "condemns" with "deplores" in the resolution.

Observers foresaw a crushing defeat for this move and an overwhelming approval of the resolution as submitted when it comes to a vote tonight or Saturday.

Dismiss Suit by Mrs. Hodge to Overturn Trust

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.)—The Illinois Supreme Court today dismissed Mrs. Margaret Hodge's effort to overturn a trust set up for assets which she and ex-Auditor Orville E. Hodge turned over to the state.

The ex-auditor and his wife signed a trust agreement turning over more than $500,000 in assets in restitution for Hodge's multi-million dollar fraud. Mrs. Hodge has challenged the trust agreement and has attempted to regain a large part of the assets.

The court held that the case before it was not appealable at this point. Still pending in the Sangamon County Circuit Court is Mrs. Hodge's claim that much of the property in the trust agreement belonged entirely to her, and was not obtained from state sources, or the proceeds of assets obtained from the Hodge scandal and invested.

Beck Receives Permit to Attend Union Convention

SEATTLE (U.P.)—Jaunty Teamsters' boss Dave Beck planned to leave for New York today with a U. S. District Court judge's permission to attend the union's Sept. 30 Miami convention.

Judge George H. Boldt granted Beck's request following his plea of innocence Thursday in Tacoma to charges of cheating the government out of $184,000 in income taxes for 1951-53. Judge Boldt also approved requests of Beck's son, Dave Jr., Fred Verschueren Sr. and Norman J. Gessert to attend the convention. The three also had pleaded innocent to charges of conspiring with the elder Beck to evade his taxes.

Cobo, 63, was stricken at his home Thursday. Doctors at Henry Ford hospital, where he was taken, said he rallied several times before he dropped into a coma. His condition was described as an "acute coronary occlusion."

Cobo, a native Detroitier who described himself as a "small business backer at heart," was mayor in Detroit's non-partisan government since 1949. He did not seek reelection to the post this year and was scheduled to step down Jan. 3.

City Council President Louis C. Miriani, who had served as acting mayor several times, took over Cobo's post under provisions of the Detroit charter. Miriani was running for mayor and in a primary election last Tuesday swamped the other nine candidates by a huge margin.

Only 11 times has Congress passed acts which can be considered as declarations of war.

Case 104

Reddy and Full HOUSEPOWER

and the case of the FUSE THAT FLIPPED!

TESTIMONIAL:

There I was, minding my own business... just trying to do my job properly. My circuit was already overloaded with too many appliances plugged into the same outlet, and then it happened—someone plugged in another appliance! I just couldn't stand it! I blew my top!

Outdated "Weak Wires" often cause fuses to blow because the wiring system is not adequate to carry the electricity demanded for today's modern living. Too few outlets result in "Octopus Outlets," a hazard in the home.

Now my employers have Full HOUSEPOWER which means:

- Large enough entrance wires and high amperage main switch to allow electricity to work efficiently in the house.
- Large enough wires and plenty of circuits throughout the house.
- Plenty of convenience outlets.

Thanks to Reddy and Full HOUSEPOWER my job is easy now, because my employers are Living Better... Electrically. Why not have an Electrician check your home wiring, now.

Takes part in Operation Home Improvement. Switch to an Electric Range and Water Heater. Adequate sizes wired in FREE through the Reddy Kilowatt FREE wiring plan open to CIPSCO Residential Customers who, as new users, do not replace an existing use of any CIPSCO SERVICE.

Name Winners In Favorite Song Contest

By H. L. Mottlinger

The winners of a recent contest on favorite song titles and comments are listed as follows:

"Amazing Grace," entered by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Leverett, RFD 2, Carrier Mills, and "God Holds the Future in His Hand," by Mrs. Wm. Trehe, 505 Vista Lane, Plainfield, Ill.

Comment on Amazing Grace by Mr. and Mrs. Leverett: "I think Amazing Grace is the finest old time song that there is. When sung it is so inspiring and makes you want to shout the praises of God. It draws you closer to the Lord and makes you feel that anywhere is home sweet home—Christ is surely there. This uplifting song fills you with the spirit."

Mrs. Trehe writes about "God Holds the Future in His Hand" as follows: "This is my favorite old time sacred song because each day as I awake this good old song enters my mind. It brings to me as I sing it a most wonderful feeling, making me realize that Christ is my truest friend. Dread things which are ahead we cannot if we live with Christ daily. Sooner or later we have trials, troubles and tribulations, but God knows every one's needs. 'Every heart He understands, yes, on Him depend. God Holds the Future in His Hand.'"

Amazing Grace first appeared in music from his words by John Newton in 1779, and was based on 1 Chronicles 17:16, 17. This refers to David's prayer and thanksgiving and his servant's house for a great while to come.

Newton was out at sea one night in a terrible storm. He asked God for forgiveness and was gloriously saved. This was in 1748 when he possibly composed the words. He died Dec. 21, 1807, at the age of 82.

James Rowe, now deceased, composed the words to "God Holds the Future in His Hand" in 1922. James D. Vaughn, also deceased, placed the complete four parts music to the words. The song is found in "Hallelujahs," published by James D. Vaughn in 1922.

James Rowe was connected with the James D. Vaughn Publishing Co. in Lawrenceburg, Tenn., for a number of years. It is said he wrote more poems than any other person—around 25,000. "Love Lifted Me" is another of his famous gospel songs.

THERE ARE STILL HORIZONS . . . still frontiers, in countless fields of endeavor, for the rising generation to roll back when its time comes. VFW, Norris City Play Here Sunday In Finals of Oil Belt League Playoffs

The Harrisburg VFW baseball team will entertain Norris City here Sunday in the finals of the Oil Belt League playoffs. The game will be played on VFW Memorial field and will start promptly at 2:30 p. m.

Norris City won first place in the league with a 11-3 mark and VFW ended in second place with a 9-4 mark. Harrisburg was rained out in one contest but as it had no bearing on the outcome of any of the top four spots it was not rescheduled. Norris City and Harrisburg split in their two league games.

Don Westphal, a former University of Illinois hurler, pitched and won most of Norris City's league victories. Norris City has also hit well during the season. Don Stout, Ramon Tonazzi, and Bill McNew have pitched almost all of VFW's games this season and the team has a 24-8 record to date. The team plans on playing four more games after the playoff game. Other players on the Harrisburg roster are: Dick Romonosky, Bob Dallas, Kayo Willis, Dick Odle, Ron Ziegler, Rod Smith, Raymond Sisk, James Hay, Don Wallace, Harold Gulley and Don Proctor.

In getting to the finals Norris City shut out Albion 12-0 and beat Cisne with a ninth inning rally last week 8-3. VFW edged Springfield 1-0 and beat McLeansboro 8-7 last week.

All baseball fans are invited out to watch the finals of this interesting year of Oil Belt League play.

Offers to Build Brooklyn Dodgers Stadium 'At Cost'

NEW YORK — A New York builder, who tried during the last month to buy both the Giants and Cincinnati Redlegs, today offered to construct a new stadium for the Brooklyn Dodgers "at cost" in order to "keep National League baseball in this city."

Samuel J. Lefrak, 39, president of the Lefrak Building Corp., said he hoped the offer "will help put the city of New York in a position to make the best possible deal" for Dodger President Walter O'Malley. Lefrak's offer came on the eve of today's special private meeting of the New York City Board of Estimate.

Lefrak made his position known in a telegram to Nelson A. Rockefeller in which he said, "Let's keep our home club at home—if the stadium is all that's keeping this back, I'll build New York a stadium."

Hayes Plans to Diversify Buckeye Attack

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Woody Hayes denied today that his past Ohio State football teams have been "dull," but he said that in 1957, without as many good players as usual, he's going to diversify his attack.

"We plan changes in the offense," he said, "but it's going to cost $4,000 for a seat to find out what we do."

Hayes left no doubt that he was well satisfied with his previous split-T assault and was equally positive that the new Buckeye line will feature more passing.

"We may have been dull," he said, "but when you cross the goal line, nobody's going to ask how you got there. We ground it out until the defense overcommitted, but then we went all the way. We've had more breakaway plays than any team in the conference. You earn everything you get, and frankly I'm a little worried about not coaching enough ground stuff right now."

Hayes expected to rely on Frank Kremblas or Andy Okulovich to spark the passing.

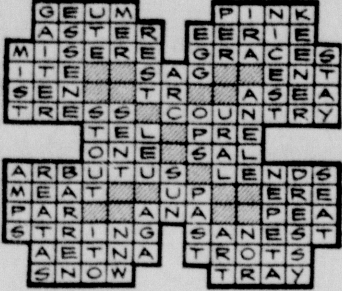

"Both of them are fair passers," he said. "Not great ones. Kremblas is doing better than we anticipated and Okulovich potentially is a great one. But we're going to have better passing than we've had for quite a while, since 1952."

"We would have passed more last year, except that we didn't have good passing. Frank Ell Blanchard knew we didn't have much chance of finding Peterson but I could see where he might want to get out of Blue Springs for a while. He had good reason to be sick of the sight of the town.

Blanchard said, "You got any objections to looking over Clements' place?"

"No."

We turned off the trail half an hour later and hit for high ground a mile east of the river. The north ridge of Buffalo Basin came up against the sky as we moved out of the bottom land and then the buildings of Clements' place showed against the prairie near the river. Blanchard got down and squatted and pulled a long stem of grass and chewed on it. I got down beside him and waited for him to say what he had on his mind. Men moved around the buildings a mile away and the yard was jammed with wagons. That was ordinary, I wondered what Blanchard expected to see.

I pulled my rifle out of the scabbard. "You reckon this rifle would carry?"

"Sure. You might even hurt somebody with a lucky shot."

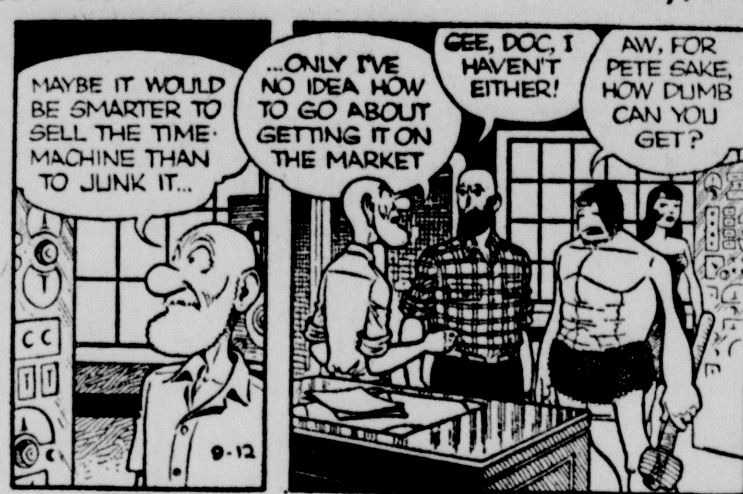

I laid the sights on the Clements' cabin and then followed a man carrying a pail away from the door. He was a black dot in the sights. Blanchard didn't move or say anything. He knew I wasn't fool enough to shoot.

I said, "Could be that Peterson went out to talk to the Clements."

"He can talk to the Clements if he wants. Might help if he did."

We waited half an hour or so and I didn't get more than half a dozen words out of Blanchard. Finally he said, "Pike, sure looks like they're getting ready to hunt buffalo. Just like nothing happened and nothing will."

We mounted and Blanchard moved out north and I followed, the sun now strong and warm on my back. Blanchard's bay had been fighting him to run and finally Blanchard waved and let him go hard for half a mile and my gelding rambled along behind. I liked the wild feeling of the air flying past my face and the horse moving fast under me but I kept a sharp eye for prairie dog holes and hoped the gelding was doing the same. Then Blanchard pulled the bay down to an easy lope and we stayed in that gait until we hit the last long climb before the river and the horses were willing to break down to a reaching walk.

We had almost hit the crest when I heard it. It was more like wind than anything, a thin rustling noise like a spring breeze through the trees down at the river. But the air was still and there wasn't a tree for half a mile. Blanchard heard it then, too, and pulled up at the crest of the slope and waited for me. The sound changed when I came up to Blanchard. It was deeper, like it came up out of the ground. Then above it rose a sound that was thin at first, then grew until it was hoarse and rolling and coming up stronger all the time. I knew it then.

Buffaloes! At first, just a long, thick line of dust hung between yellow prairie and the sky. Then I could see the dark, moving ribbon of the first great herd storming over the grass, heading into the wind, making a straggling dusty run to the river.

We sat there and watched a lot longer than was safe, the horses stirring under us, trying to edge down the slope toward the water. I'd never seen the buffaloes come that way before but I'd heard the oldtimers tell about it. Always I'd seen them come in little bunches at first, grazing along as easy as you please, the red-yellow calves risking around the cows, then running hard down the slope to the river. Or one night the prairie would be clear and the next morning they would be there by the thousands east of town.

The lead animals took on shape as they rambled along, their great shaggy heads down and their thick humped shoulders pushing forward. The sound was so strong now that it came from all sides, from the ground and from the sky and from the wind. Back from the charging leaders stretched the biggest herd I'd ever seen, spreading thick like a waving brown forest over the prairie. The lead bulls, tails in the air, black tongues hanging out a foot, broke over the hill and roared down the slope to the river, pushed from behind, here and there one stumbling and being swallowed up by the hundreds following.

I had the feeling then that the prairie belonged to the buffaloes. Me and Blanchard had no business there. Looking south along our ridge, I saw a lot of other folks, some mounted, some afoot, who had come out from Blue Springs for the sight. A big stubborn bull stood straight across the river from us, up to his knees in mud, chewing his cud, his long whiskers hanging into the water. I took out my Sharps and checked the sights and laid them on the bull, just back of the foreleg and about a third of the way up the body. A good lung shot...

I cleared my throat. "Don't hardly seem right. Not just to test out a new gun."

Blanchard put his hand on my shoulder. "A great animal, Pike. Some say he's stupid. I say he's stubborn."
